

✘
Minister of Environment, Mining and Spatial Planning Oliver Dulic said today that with the launch of the IGIS system in the Serbian Geodetic Authority, Serbia received the latest technology in the world of collecting, processing and distribution of geospatial information. At the presentation of a project to form a single geospatial data system (Infoterra Geo Information System