

Slovenian energy company Petrol counts on 3.87 billion EUR in revenue this year, which would be increased the next year by two percent - up to 3.94 billion, according to the business plan, which was confirmed by the supervisory board of the company.

Petrol plans to also rise in net profit to 58 million euros this year, but in major markets in which it operates, in Slovenia and Croatia, they anticipate new investments over the next year despite the challenging economic conditions in both markets.

Number of Petrol gas stations will increase next year by 8, at 484, of which 320 in Slovenia, and the rest in Croatia, Bosnia, Serbia, Montenegro and Kosovo.

Source; Serbia Energy See desk